MANAMA, Bahrain – Combined Maritime Forces welcomed Sri Lanka, Nov. 20th, as the 39th member of the world's largest maritime security partnership.

"We are excited to have Sri Lanka as part of CMF," said Vice Adm. Brad Cooper, CMF commander. "We welcome them into a growing international naval coalition in the Middle East, which protects some of the world's most important waterways."

In accepting the invitation to join CMF, the country's naval commander, Vice Adm. Priyantha Perera, said Sri Lanka "is eager to collaborate with the CMF and other partner nations in joint exercises, patrols and operations...to uphold the principles of the CMF and contribute to its success."

CMF is comprised of a headquarters staff and five combined task forces focusing on defeating terrorism, preventing piracy, encouraging regional cooperation, and promoting a safe maritime environment. The naval partnership upholds the international rules-based order by supporting security and stability across 3.2 million square miles of water encompassing some of the world's most important shipping lanes.
