

Luke Lorenz

Director of Legislative Affairs
Navy League of the United States

Luke Lorenz serves as the director for Legislative Affairs with the Navy League of the United States.

In this role, he formulates and manages advocacy operations ranging from traditional media outreach, social media campaigns, grassroots activism, coalition building and direct congressional legislative actions.

He is also a former commissioned officer in the U.S. Army with missions in European and Central Commands.

Prior to joining the Navy League, Lorenz acquired an international political economy-focused master's degree from The Johns Hopkins University Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies, as well as a political management-focused master's degree from The George Washington University.
