TALL SHIP SAILING IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

This training helped me understand the importance of teamwork and I couldn't have asked for better shipmates! This is definitely one training you should attend if you love the ocean and want a challenge.

My experience was educational and fun. With the crew and my shipmates, this week was unforgettable. The food was great, too! This is a training that I'll always remember.

My sailing experience was very rewarding. I was able to sail a 137-foot schooner in the middle of the Pacific Ocean for several days. The crew taught me a lot, and I'm so thankful for my shipmates and crew for making this a memorable training.
